CHILDREN NEED MILK AND SHOES

A pint of milk a day is necessary to feed each undernourished child in Central and Eastern Europe, according to a despatch received by the European Relief Committee of which Herbert Hoover is the chairman. The potato ration should average around five to ten pounds a week but the crop this winter is so poor, according to British authorities, that scientific men are trying to find some substitute for small children which will combine the nourishing effects of milk and starch foods. Most of the children have been undernourished for so long that it is impossible for them to digest even the simplest of children's prepared foods. Owing to the Bolshevik invasion of Poland the crops and cows of that district have been so terribly depleted that it is impossible to get milk for the farm babies, to say nothing of the city children. Shoes are another great problem for the officials of the relief societies. In the colder countries of Europe the children suffer terribly from bleeding feet and chilblains and, it is pointed out, while it is possible to substitute and borrow material for clothing it is literally impossible for a child to get along without shoes. Orders for five hundred thousand pairs of little shoes for Polish children have been placed with manufacturers of Northamptonshire, England, and people with leisure throughout Europe have been urged to knit warm socks for babies. A decrease in the size of children's shoes point to the malnutrition of these poor owners—a child of twelve or thirteen for instance, takes the size shoe of a baby of two or three years old.

PLAN ASS'N TO MARKET POTATOES

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Syracuse, N. Y., Dec. 28.—A statewide conference of potato growers is meeting at the court house in this city today to consider the forming of a potato marketing association. It is pointed out that the purpose of such an association would not be to keep prices up but to standardize the product, put it on the market in uniform packages, and stabilize the market. This last is considered important, because under the present disorganized plan of marketing frequently there will be so many potatoes offered that they are worth nothing, while later a scarcity may make them far beyond the reach of all but plutocrats.

The organization would also care for the distribution of certified seed stock. Today's meeting is the result of cooperative effort on the part of the state farm bureau federation, the state potato association, the division of foods and markets and the state college of agriculture. Through these four agencies, five regional conferences have been held which have been attended by about 100 delegates from 19 counties in which potato raising is an important industry.

At each of these conferences the delegates were unanimous in recommending the organization of local incorporated cooperative potato marketing associations and later the federation of these local associations into a regional or state selling exchange.

Statewide Meeting Suggested.

These conferences likewise suggested that a statewide meeting such as has been called in this city, should be arranged and that each farm bureau of the state should be asked to send a delegate to the conference.

C. A. Wood, secretary and treasurer of the Michigan Potato Growers' Exchange, will address the conference and be available for committee work. The Michigan association is considered highly successful. It is made up of 24,000 growers and this season is marketing more than 5,000 cars of potatoes.

HURLEY.

Hurley, Dec. 28.—The village school has a victrola and a number of records. The efforts of the children combined with donations of money from the district superintendent and friends enabled the school to secure a good instrument.

George R. Van Sickle is at home preparatory to going south for the winter on some big undertaking. He may go to South America.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Lockwood were here for Christmas.

Mrs. Whitbeck is at home after some absence.

Mrs. John Elmendorf and son, Sherman, made a few days' visit at the home of her father, Mr. Brodhead goes to New York city for a few days over the holidays.

Messrs. Matt DeWitt, Grant Smith and Frank Ten Eyck attended the banquet of the supervisors at Lake Katrine. Of course they reported a fine time.

The Williams family went to Brooklyn for the holiday season.

Christmas Day was a perfect one here and everyone says the most enjoyable for years. Everybody who could possibly get home for the day did so while few found entertainment with friends and relatives outside of the village. The Markle house had a large number of guests. Miss Mericle came up from New York for the season. Levan Smith and Miss Ellen Smith came home. The DeWitt household had a full table. One of the pleasantest features of the day came off the evening before, when the young people with the dominie went through the village singing carols; as Mr. French had his turn with him, the feature was much enjoyed. As for Christmas presents, well! Santa Claus must have been exceedingly busy.

The village school held Christmas exercises on the Friday preceding Christmas Day. There was a goodly sized audience including several graduates of the school who looked upon the scene with pleasant memories of the time when they occupied front seats. The program offered was a capital one and the manner in which it was carried out, reflected great credit upon the teacher and children; as every part was finely rendered, it is needless to mention any special feature; the singing was good; the recitations and dialogues, pleasing and amusing. The Christmas tree this year bore fruit of course but in a different manner than usual each scholar brought a Christmas present, not exceeding five cents in value, bearing the giver's name; the teacher added to this the name of the recipient; at the distribution, the presentation of these gifts caused immense amusement to the scholars as they heard the name of donor and recipient mentioned. Mrs. Levanich received a number of remembrances from the scholars, including two such from the school as a whole, reminding her of the rules of deportment prominently displayed upon the wall of the room. The Rev. Mr. French made a short address to the children, closing a most enjoyable occasion. The program followed with Christmas songs—"Come and Share Our Christmas."

On Sunday evening there was in the village church an exceptional service one that was especially appropriate to Christmas. The Rev. Mr. French and Mrs. French arranged this service and to them is due the most hearty praise for the service and the excellent manner in which it was carried out. The service was that on "The Nativity." In fact the service was in the nature of a pantomime with readings appropriate to the scenes depicted. A number of pine trees had been placed about the pulpit and platform making a pleasing and proper background for what followed. The service was in four scenes: The first scene represented Zechariah offering incense at an altar while in the performance of his duty, the angel Gabriel appeared to him, announcing the birth to him of a son John. The second scene: The angel Gabriel here appears to Mary, announcing to her the birth of a son; Mrs. Earle, who took the part of Mary here, sang a solo, "My Soul Doth Magnify the Lord." In the third scene we saw the shepherds watching their flocks when the Angel of the Lord appears to them with the message of the wondrous birth; a number of children swept through the scene as the Heavenly Host, singing "Glory to God." In the fourth scene there were to be seen Joseph, Mary and the Babe; the shepherds approached the manger and the wise men appeared bearing gifts. Joseph had a dream in which the Angel of the Lord appears to him telling him to take the Babe and Mary and flee to Egypt. As the evening's collection was for the benefit of the Armenians, quite a handsome sum was realized. A number of young ladies gathered in this collection and handed their plates to Miss Mina Malcom who placed all reverently in the manger. The sum amounted to $65.00. Ray Elmendorf took part of the Zechariah Miss Eva Miller, that of the Angel Gabriel; Mary, by Mrs. Earle; the shepherds were represented by Robert Hiller, Ernest Myer and Robert Cole; the Angel of the Lord was taken by Miss Mary Elmendorf; the children of the Heavenly Host were Sarah Brink, Lucille Smith, Nita Snyder and Mina Malcom; Ralph Hiller, Theodore Thielpe and Winfred Snyder assumed the parts of the wise men; Joseph was portrayed by Wessels Ten Eyck. The Rev. Mr. French read the appropriate lines while Miss Catherine Dunn was the organist for the evening.

On Friday evening, December 31, at 7.30 o'clock, the Sunday school will hold its annual Christmas exercises. There will be a fine program offered and refreshments for all. Everybody is invited without further notice.

"The beauty of the house is order; The blessing of the house is contentment; The good will of the house is hospitality; The inspiration of the house is godliness; But the glory of the house is love."

SEASONABLE DISHES.

A doughnut which keeps moist until used may be made from the following recipe:

Potato Doughnuts.—Take four and one-half cups of pastry flour, four level teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one teaspoonful of salt, one-third of a nutmeg, grated, one-half teaspoonful of soda, three eggs beaten light, one cupful of granulated sugar, one cupful of mashed potatoes, three tablespoonfuls of melted butter and three-fourths of a cupful of sour milk. Sift the dry ingredients, add sugar to the eggs, the butter to the potatoes, and combine the two mixtures; add sour milk and stir in the dry ingredients. Take a little of the dough at a time, knead lightly, roll into a sheet, cut in rounds and fry in deep fat. Keep the dough as soft as possible. A good way to do this is to chill it and roll and fry quickly before the mixture is softened.

Fresh Fish Salad.—Separate a white variety of fresh cooked fish into flakes while the fish is still warm. Squeeze the juice of half a lemon over a pint of the fish, sprinkle lightly with salt and pepper and set aside to become chilled. When ready to serve, drain, add leaves and tips of stems from a bunch of water cress; mix with enough Russian salad dressing to hold the ingredients together and shape in a mound on a serving dish. Lettuce may replace the cress.

Russian Dressing for Fish.—Shred four anchovies, freed from oil or freed in water; add four hard cooked egg yolks, and a tablespoonful of prepared mustard; pound with a pestle to a smooth paste; then press through a sieve. Add the paste to one and one-half cups of mayonnaise dressing; mix the paste in a little of the dressing; then add more until all is thoroughly blended. Finish with half a cupful of sweetened salmon, cut in quarter-inch slices.

Grape fruit served with grape juice is a most delicious way of serving the well-known breakfast fruit.

COL. ELTINGE CANNOT ATTEND

In response to an invitation to attend the 5th annual dinner of the Ulster County Society to be held at the Hotel Biltmore in New York city on February 3, Colonel LeRoy Eltinge, formerly of this city, who was on General Pershing's staff, has written Joseph Drake, secretary, from Camp Lewis, Washington, as follows:

"I should certainly enjoy being with the Ulster County Society on February 3, but the distance away and the time that would be consumed in a journey back and forth make it impossible for me to accept your invitation to be there and speak. As to the speaking, I think you are in luck that I cannot come, for I am not much of a social speaker though I am accustomed to talk on professional subjects and am not afraid of an audience."

"I should have been particularly glad of an opportunity to be with you and to meet all the old Ulster county residents, many of whom I knew as a boy. I have always had a desire to keep more in touch with the people of my old home but a certain inborn diffidence when I was younger, together with the distant places to which the government has sent me, have combined to keep me from doing so. I trust you will have a profitable and enjoyable evening on February 3."

Col Eltinge is a son of Mrs. Lamont Eltinge of this city.

ELSIE FERGUSON, in "HIS HOUSE IN ORDER"

A Paramount-Artcraft Picture

Of a Pretty Wife Whose Home Was Not Her Own
Her husband, grieved by her seeming lightness, thought she wasn't big enough for a real wife's job. She, slighted and hurt, could not understand why the comradeship she craved was missing. Then a shocking revelation opened the eyes of both. A real-life story of one of a million homes. With lovely Elsie Ferguson in a great emotional role.

Return to Rat Bird.
The saying "this is a rat" does not refer to a mere rat, as is commonly supposed, but to the bird known as a rat. The rat, of which there are several species in this country, live in swamps and have extremely compressed bodies so that they may thread their way between reeds and rushes.

Handed down from the forefathers of the family, the "Rat Bird" is a creature of the swamps, and is a common sight in the marshes of the South. It is a small, plump bird, with a long, pointed beak, and is known for its habit of hiding in the reeds and rushes, where it can be seen only when it is feeding on the small insects that it catches in the swamps. Soft carpeting, subdued harmony of coloring in the upholstery, inviting depth of cushions—offer an irresistible appeal.

Appointments are complete. Nothing that would add to comfort and convenience—to protection and utility—has been neglected. Rain-proof windshield, silver-faced jeweled 8-day clock, artistic cut-glass dome light, massive head-lights of unique design, automatic window regulators, silk roller curtains at windows—these are features every connoisseur of closed car quality will appreciate.

AT THE THEATRES.

Elaine Hammerstein At Keene's—Delta Boice Dancers.

Elaine Hammerstein in "The Shadow of Rosalie Byrnes" playing at Keene's tonight is shown in the difficult role of playing a good sister and a bad one. She is, so to speak, pitted against herself. The sisters are twins, and Fate decrees that the flashy unscrupulous actress should play havoc with the happiness of her unselfish, lovable artist sister. The plot is an unusual one. Tomorrow and Friday Elsie Ferguson in "His House in Order."

The Christmas festival dance given by the pupils of Miss Delta Boice at the Kingston Opera House tonight at seven and nine should crowd the theatre to its very doors, not only because it is for the benefit of the Tuberculosis Hospital, but because it is an entertainment that gives value received. The photoplay presented is Olive Thomas in "The Flapper" the story of a girl who was young and innocent and wanted the world to think she was a woman with a past. And when the world began to think that way she suddenly wanted to be the sweet, innocent little girl she really was. Tomorrow and Friday Madge Kennedy in "Dollars and Sense" also a brand new vaudeville program said to be better than any yet shown at the Opera House. Holbrook Blinn, Alice Brady and Douglas MacLean in "The Boss," based upon the famous stage success of the same name. A Tom Mix story "Law and the Outlaw," a thrilling western. Tomorrow Charlie Chaplin in "The Adventurers" and Elaine Hammerstein in "The Shadow of Rosalie Byrnes."

LeRoy, of New York city, are spending the holidays with friends and relatives at Cold Brook, Saugerties and Ashokan. Master LeRoy remaining at Cold Brook for a week's vacation.

Resolutions.

The Almighty Father, beneath whose hand all must bow, has visited us and has taken away our beloved director, William R. Bennett, from among us.

Our friend possessed a gracious personality and a cordial presence. His thoughts fused sympathetically with those of others, and especially with those in need or affliction. His heart was ever turned outward planting or feeding kindly flames in the hearts of others.

Our friend had faith in life and in people. His enduring and enthusiastic faith helped to sustain our Young Men's Christian Association. His executive ability, mental capacity and elevated character assisted materially in bringing it to a higher, better and greater plane. We cannot pay too high a tribute to the value of his service to our association, or too great a tribute to the worth of his life.

Resolved, therefore, that we give expression of our deep feeling of sympathy for the members of his family. We earnestly hope that they may be blessed at this time of sorrow with special consolation. May the severe trial be sanctified to them. May their cup of sorrow be sweetened by the thought of the fact that his life was a blessing to so many others who were his friends. May his near and dear ones be given strength to accept the judgment that is unquestionable and unappealable as an act of unchanging faithfulness, and may their house of mourning be lighted with the peace of grace.

Resolved, that a copy of same be sent to the family and another placed on the association's records.

In witness whereof, the Young Men's Christian Association has caused the above resolution of tribute and sympathy to be signed and attested by its president and secretary this twenty-seventh day of December, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and twenty.

PALMER CANTFIELD, JR., President.
MAURICE S. SAFFORD, Secretary.

Ernest DuBois is spending Christ-

Judge Myer spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Alva Myer.

Christmas exercises which were held in the Marlborough school house on Saturday evening past, were largely attended.

Yes, indeed.

It is too bad that our ancestors did not live long enough to realize how smart we are.—Freeman Journal.

PECK'S BAD BOY NOW PERFECT MAN

Peck's bad boy has grown up into a perfectly good man.

To look at him as he is today—talking, playing almost to the point of exhaustion, you would never guess it was the same boy who once upon a time—in our father's boyhood—to put Jamaica rum on his pa's handkerchief just before going to church, or to buy a "rod of white nursing bottle rubber, cut a nip and serve it to the "old man" as macaroni to his inhuman chagrin.

Now boys of the present day ever read the rollicking adventures of this once very naughty boy written by the father, former Governor George W.
Peck of Wisconsin and mayor of Milwaukee. The father, a singular character himself, died in 1916 at the age of 70, after a long career as a newspaperman and politician, says
the Boston Sunday "Post." It was in the Milwaukee "Sun" that Governor Peck began the series of "Peck's Bad Boy" that made the circulation of the paper jump to a greater number than the population of Milwaukee itself.

Papers all over the country, and magazines likewise copied these tales of boyhood pranks, and no one got any more fun out of them than the jovial governor himself. More than that, he made a fortune out of the collected stories as published in book form.

It is consoling to know that the "old man" so far forgave his wayward son for "blowing him up" out of his afternoon dinner nap chair with a worth of fireworks, placed underneath as to present him later in life with a splendid rifle engraved with the inscription, "Presented to Peck's Bad Boy by His Pa."

In looks the governor strongly resembled his son except that the old man wore an impressive Van Dyke beard in fact, the impressiveness of his bearing strikes a greater contrast in our minds when we recall that merrily evening when Peck, Jr., by the simple ruse of a note signed
"Daisy," had his father, out on a street corner in the dead of winter, waiting minute after minute, first on one side of the street and then on the other, to meet this elusive creature who never showed up, only to be heckled by little George passing and passing, each time addressing him with fitting remarks and exhorting from him, on penalty of an implied revelation to Mrs. Peck, sums amounting to a whole dollar.

Or who would think to meet this grave-looking son, that it was he who inserted his chin into fooling the "gov'nor" by dressing up the boy in girl's muslin and sending him out to meet the old gentleman on the corner with a sorry tale of a deserting husband, and so working on the elder Peck's sympathies as to invoke an invitation to walk in the park, with his manly arm for support—until young Peck promptly put an end to Pa Peck's in-discretion and the illusion by snatching off the "girl's" wig and muslin dress and trotting her husband home in a vastly weakened silent condition.

It might have been predicted that young Peck would turn out a sportsman—as he has—for in those days of boyhood pranks little George had to pay for them in many an uncomfortable night locked up in the bathroom and discomfiting days of "rore backs" caused by violent contact with the bed slat or the paternal shoe sole.
But that father and son were,
after all, good pals was evident in the several volumes of the adventures which Governor Peck wrote in 1884 and later, immortalizing the

NEW YORK
CENTRAL LINES

Sound at the Core

THE fundamental soundness of America is a guarantee for better business in 1921.

During the present period of economic readjustment,
business men are putting their houses in order in confident preparation for the period of better business, soon to come.

The New York Central Lines, which carry one-tenth of the railroad traffic of this country, are ready to perform their full share of the work ahead.

Every business man knows the part that bad transportation can play in aggravating business troubles.
Every business man knows how, at times in the past,
he has been embarrassed and hindered by freight congestion and slow deliveries.

Sound transportation conditions are a stimulus to business, just as are sound banking conditions. Transportation and credit are the cornerstones of good business.

Substantial progress has already been made in rehabilitating the New York Central Lines from the rack and tear of War demands. New cars and locomotives are now coming into service; much has been done in overhauling existing equipment; and the New York Central Lines are, today, in position to carry even a greater share of the burden of transportation than ever before.

New York Central preparedness means ease of transportation, which invites fuller production and business growth over a wide and industrially dominant territory.

NAVIGATION IS NEARING CLOSE

Navigation on the upper Hudson river is practically closed for the season. The ferryboat George H. Powers, running between Hudson and Athens made the last trip of the season Sunday tying up for the winter at Athens. Since the last regular tow of the season left Kingston about a week ago there have been several special tows from this port for New York.

The Central Hudson Line is still keeping one steamer in commission running between this port and New York, and the boat will run until stopped by the ice.

Some of the boatyards along the Rondout creek have closed down for the winter and there is but little activity along the creek front.

The river off Kingston Point is full of floating ice, and if the cold weather should continue it would be but a matter of a day or so for the river to freeze fast.

The situation this winter is in sharp contrast to that of last winter when on December 17, the river was practically closed north of Catskill. At Catskill the thermometers recorded from 6 to 10 degrees below zero. At Windham 28 degrees below was reported on that day. So far this winter the thermometer in this vicinity has not touched zero, but has recorded from 10 to 20 degrees above during the coldest days and nights.

On December 22 the upper Hudson was closed tight by the ice, and the ferry stopped running at Catskill, and ice cutting was started on the ponds and streams. December 20 there was 7 inches of ice reported in the upper Hudson river, and on December 31, the Knickerbocker Ice Company began to fill its upper Hudson ice houses with ice from 9 to 11 inches thick.

CHRISTMAS AT GOV'T HOSPITAL

A letter from Miss Helena Clearwater, recently returned to the government hospital at Washington, the Walter Reed Hospital where the fire was not long ago, gives some interesting bits about Christmas at a U. S. A. government hospital. The letter said in part: "I just wish you could have been here to enjoy the sight that greeted me when I reached the park! At the entrance is a high spruce tree lighted beautifully, then in front of the Colonel's house, nurses' quarters, recreation hall, Red Cross hall and in each ward is a smaller tree, beautifully trimmed and lighted. A prize was offered to the ward that was decorated the prettiest and it went to ward 45, which was in the fire district, and where some of the boys who were in the fire were housed. They did all the trimming and it is wonderful how artistically they have done it. On Christmas morning, the girls (nurses) got up at four o'clock and carols. There were about 200 nurses. I just felt homesick when they told me all about their day here, for it did seem so well worth while. All seemed happy even if tired."

Funeral in China.

A good Chinaman insists on being buried in China. He may live in the United States, but when he is about to die he makes it clearly understood that his remains are to be transported to the Far East for final burial. To transport each body separately would be prohibitive in cost for the average Chinaman's estate. Hence established procedure is to accumulate a large number of bodies until they make up a shipment and can be transported at minimum expense. From the time the Chinaman dies until the shipment is being made up, his body is kept in a separate compartment of a stone structure which serves as a cemetery. After placing the body in its compartment or pigeon hole, it is sealed in with a thin cement wall. Each compartment is numbered, and a suitable epitaph is written on the cement wall in flowery Chinese characters.

Meteors.

A meteor is a sudden luminous phenomenon, as of a star or bright body in rapid motion through the air, produced by a small mass of matter perhaps from the celestial spaces striking the air with planetary velocity, and suffering heating, dissipation, or combustion. Before encountering the earth they travel in their own orbit.

FORD PLANT NOT TO REOPEN SOON

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Detroit, Mich., Dec. 29.—The Ford Motor Company has closed its Detroit plant indefinitely. It was learned on excellent authority today. The plant which was closed on December 24 for its annual inventory, will not reopen until late in the new year, it was stated. The close down is due to the present business depression. It was stated, Fifty thousand men will be thrown out of employment. Officials of the company refused to make any official announcement concerning its plans.

ULSTER MAN AT $1,000 DINNER

The Rev. Bernard Kaplan, pastor of Temple Emanuel, was selected Tuesday evening at a meeting of the European Relief Committee held at the Y. M. C. A., as the delegate from this county to attend the $1,000 dinner at the Hotel Commodore in New York this evening, and left for that city this morning. He has been authorized by Martin Cantine of Saugerties to pledge $1,000 toward the relief of Europe's starving children. The meal itself would hardly be worth traveling so far for inasmuch as the menu will consist of nothing but stew, bread and cocoa, the same food upon which it is planned to keep alive millions of destitute children until conditions improve in Europe, but the dinner was arranged by Herbert Hoover, General Pershing and Franklin Lane as a part of the campaign to convince America that her money is badly needed for this relief work as for any other to which it can be put.

ELLENVILLE.

Ellenville, Dec. 29.—Lawrence Craft received a blow in the eye with a hockey stick, while skating at the Mine on Sunday and owing to the fact that he wore glasses the accident was a serious one.

H. Westlake Coons and family went to Red Hook on Tuesday where they will spend New Year's with Mrs. Coons's mother, Mrs. Cookingsham.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rouser of Yankee Place are rejoicing over the birth of a daughter on Christmas eve. Robert Terwilliger, a student of Worcester Academy who is home on vacation has been ill with tonsillitis. The Sunday school of the Reformed Church gave a Christmas party on Monday evening and an enjoyable time was had by all.

The Epworth League of the M. E. Church gave a Christmas party, especially for the members who are home on vacation on Monday evening. Everyone reports a fine time. Calvin Lauber, an electrical engineer of Salt Lake City, spent Christmas week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lauber on the Napanoch road, and left on Monday for San Francisco where he intends to remain for some time.

Mr. Nalnick and son Thomas have gone to New York city where they will spend New Year's returning to Ellenville after the holidays. The school children are enjoying their vacation immensely after their disappointment of not having snow for Christmas. Coasting, skiing and skating are the popular sports of the day.

Little Jane Taylor, Nabel Johnson, and several other small children are confined to their homes with the chickenpox.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Christian spent Christmas with Mrs. Garry at Napanoch.

Watts, Charles Ramsey, A. J. Burns, V. A. Charles Ramsey, A. J. Burns, A. D. Perdue, V. A. Gorman and Schuyler Schultz.

MIND IS KEENEST AT NIGHT

Fact That Is Recognized by Most Writers and Other Workers With Their Brains.

Many writers sleep with pencil and notebook under their pillows and a lamp at hand, so that they may dash off the thoughts that come to them in the watches of the night. It is said that Mary E. Wilkins Freeman has a typewriter set out on an extension spring, which she draws out from the wall on its shelf and places in position before her if she cannot sleep.

There is about these thoughts a clarity that does not come with daytime thinking—a sureness of vision that approaches the clairvoyant.

A problem with which we have wrestled in the daylight, weighing it with all our intelligence, is settled in a certain way, calmly and judiciously, and after mature reflection. Our decision seems the right one. And then, suddenly, in the dead of the night, that selfsame issue bobs up before our mental vision, wakes us from a sound sleep and settles itself in quite another way, in one great flash! A strong white light has been turned upon the brain and has revealed there a conclusion of which we had no inkling before. The processes of arriving at it are a closed chapter. The clairvoyant brain has registered a result only. And again and again it will be found to be the right, the expedient solution.

Memory, too, is peculiarly keen in the silences between midnight and 4 o'clock in the morning. All convulsions have been swept from the brain by the first hours of sleep; the body and nerve centers are singularly rested; there are no noises to disturb and some subconscious power is at work within us.

HAD ANSWER IN READINESS

Ellen Terry's Display of Tact Won Enthusiastic Admiration of Miss Ethel Barrymore.

Ethel Barrymore, apropos of a witty remark made by a young actress at a garden party, said:

"This young lady reminds me of Ellen Terry, who was the wisest and most tactful woman I ever knew."

"I once heard a story which is characteristic of Miss Terry's ready wit."

"She was sued by her dressmaker for an unpaid bill and the case went against her. Asking to be allowed to appeal, she gave as one of her reasons that the judge who rendered the decision was too old to understand the case."

"The judge of appeals reminded her that once before, in another suit, she had complained that her case had been tried by a bit of a boy."

"What age, may I ask, madam, do you want a judge to be?" the judge of appeals inquired.

"Your age," Miss Terry smilingly replied.

Poppies a Memorial Flower.

The poppy seems fated to go down into history as the memorial flower of the American Legion. It is the common scarlet variety of that flower growing so freely in waste places that won the regard of the men overseas, for it bloomed on about them, and often the flower was the only beautiful thing the soldiers saw for days upon days.

The poppy is one of the oldest flowers in the world's literature, and has been sung in verse and mentioned in holy books by all races. The oriental poppies are of orange-red color with black centers and large seed bags, which burst and scatter the seeds in all directions. Other varieties include the slender-leaved poppy, the yellow California variety and the big double flowers. None of them has any perfume, but they depend upon beauty of form and color to attract and hold the senses.

Mystery Machine.

There was much mystery about a perpetual motion machine, set up as a sign and advertisement over a street in Los Angeles not long ago. It had the form of a huge wheel that revolved slowly all day and all night, being driven by a number of metal balls which ran along spokes from the center to the circumference and back.

Gravity was supposed to furnish the power, and thus the machine could go on forever without depending upon any other source of energy. Unfortunately, however, there came a day when the city's electric plant was shut down for repairs, and the wheel stopped turning. Philadelphia Ledger.

Encouraging Peaches Pear Growth.

The Department of Agriculture is promoting the distribution of the best varieties of peaches pears, and is also foremen in starting a plantation of them throughout regions of the South-west, adapted to the growth of the plant. The crop is aided by showing under state of the various cultivating the crop, which is harvested and sent into the feeding lots. As eight times as much peaches can be obtained under cultivation as when grown in the wild, the Department is promoting the distribution of the best varieties of peaches pears.

Show That Carry 10-inch Gun.

We have two battleships under construction which will carry the 10-inch gun. Of these four, the Colorado, the Maryland, the Washington and the West Virginia, will mount eight 10-inch guns, and the Indiana, the Iowa, the Massachusetts, the Minnesota, the North Carolina and the South Dakota will each mount twelve 10-inch guns. —Scientific American.

The Speaking Voice.

It is a great mistake to try and talk above one's voice. It is much easier and more effective to speak below it. A full, clear tone will carry when a shrill one is not only annoying but very strong.

HEARING ON WILBUR ACCOUNTS

Five Points Mission Reaches Agreement With Goodwill Executor—Trustee to Be Named For Fund—Wilbur to Get Commissions.

A hearing was had before County Judge Joseph M. Fowler as acting surrogate, in the surrogate's court today, in the matter of the final accounting of Charles S. Wilbur as executor of the estate of Sherman Goodsell, of the town of Saugerties. George F. Kaufman appeared for the executor, with John W. Eckert, of counsel; H. O. Pierson and C. A. Baldwin of New York city appeared for the Five Points Mission of New York, the residuary legatee under the will, which filed objections to the account last fall.

After consultation between the executor and the four attorneys lasting nearly an hour and a half, Mr. Pierson announced that the parties had decided on a settlement of their differences which would include withdrawal of the objections which had been previously filed against the account, without costs, and the entry of a decree which would include the additional moneys accruing to the estate, and which decree also shall appoint a trustee for the trust created under the will for the benefit of the Five Points Mission, Mr. Wilbur, who was named also as trustee under the will, having announced that he would withdraw as such trustee and would file what ever instrument was necessary to formally renounce his trusteeship. There would be no further costs.

Mr. Eckert said that Mr. Wilbur never had qualified as a trustee under the will, but only as an executor. Mr. Kaufman suggested that the decree provide for settlement of Mr. Wilbur's account as executor, that thereafter he could transfer the trust account to himself as trustee and upon his renunciation of his trusteeship, the court could appoint a trustee.

Judge Fowler said that Mr. Wilbur might file his renunciation as trustee, and the decree could provide for the appointment of the Five Points Mission trustee of the trust fund created under the will for the benefit of the Mission.

Mr. Eckert prepared the renunciation of Mr. Wilbur as trustee, which Mr. Wilbur thereupon signed. Mr. Eckert said so far as the present proceedings was concerned, the objections to the account were withdrawn and a decree was to be entered which would provide for payment to Mr. Wilbur of $450 commissions due him as executor.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, Dec. 29.—A further break in Atlantic Gulf featured the stock market today, that stock falling to a new low record for the year of $9, a loss of 4 1/2 points. Crucible again continued under pressure and was forced down 1 1/2 to a new low for the year at 70.

The strength which developed in the stock market after the opening became more pronounced during the forenoon, when further substantial advances were recorded in many issues.

The market maintained a strong tone during the afternoon, the railway stocks being the most prominent features, some of these issues moving up with a great deal of vigor. The market closed strong; government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds strong.

A man once acted as a peacemaker between a friend and his wife, and just to show how little they cared, neither of them attended his funeral. —Richmond Times-Dispatch.

TO LECTURE ON HOME DECORATING

A lecture will be held under the auspices of the Ulster County Home Bureau on Tuesday evening, January 4th, at St. John's Parish House, on Wall street, at 8 o'clock, when Mrs. Grace Wilnot, a well known interior decorator of New York, will lecture and talk informally on the subject of interior decoration for the home of today and its development and growth along artistic and period lines. The talk will be illustrated by lantern slides and decorative materials.

This is the first of a series of lectures chosen by the Kingston committee of the Ulster County Home Bureau and is one of the most interesting of this series.

The Kingston Federation of Women's Clubs will join with the Home Bureau for their open meeting on that evening.

The talk is also open and free to the public and a large audience is hoped for to welcome so interesting a speaker.

Mr. Tapper was for a number of years a resident of Kingston, being a superintendent for the Prudential Insurance Company when the office was located on Mill street. He went from here to Philadelphia, where he opened a small dry goods and stationery store on North 27th street. Mrs. Tapper died a few years ago. Tigers' New Uniforms.

Andrew J. Murphy, the sporting goods dealer, received this morning the new basketball uniforms of the Tigers, which they will wear for the first time this evening when they clash with the Centrals in the Colonial League at St. Peter's Hall. The new uniforms are very classy, of black material, with a golden tiger's head on the breast.

Mayor Peters, of Boston, Mass., took personal interest in the work of Volunteers of America and aided in the distribution of shoes given by the organization to several thousand poor children of the city. Fully 700 families, averaging five to the family, from the congested districts of the city were outfitted with new footwear. The photo shows Mayor Peters fitting a pair of new shoes on an unfortunate youngster.

toire of high class musical comedies with a company of twenty-five people, eighty per cent of which are a support that will surprise those who can not entertain any idea of witnessing anything worth while at popular prices. Lew Orth, Al Coleman, George Barker, Kack Ryan,

Rolphe Osterman, Miss Lillian,

Elyse Wallace, Rose Bentley, Val-

mario Lee and the famous Faust Trio are other talented members of the company.

The Tip Tops carry an abundance of scenery and costumes and the concerts of opinion throughout New England, where the Tip Top Merrymakers have spent the greater part of the past five years is that the Orth and Coleman show has no peer

as a popular priced attraction.

Performances will start promptly at 8:15 every evening and bargain

An entire change of program on Wednesday and Friday. Seats will be on sale at the Opera House Fri-

UNUSUAL BASKETBALL

Tigers vs. Centrals Tonight's Feature

—Florentines Here New Year's.

This evening in St. Peter's Hall a real treat is in store for the basketball fans of Kingston. The league leaders, the undefeated Tiger team, meet the Centrals, who are close at their heels, having suffered one reverse at the Tigers' hands from the first sound of the whistle until

"time up," this most important game of the season will be bristling with interest. The second game between the Eagles and Casey's will also be close and interesting features rarely absent from Colonial league games.

On New Year's Day at 2:15 p. m.,

the Colonial Big Five, a formidable quintet representing the pick of Kingston basketball material, will meet Florentine Council, K. of C.,

from Poughkeepsie at St. Peter's

Hall. Each team in the Colonial league is represented and these men will defend Kingston's claim to amateur basketball supremacy against all comers. The lineup for Kingston will be announced later. After both games Balfie's orchestra will supply

the dance music and refreshments will be served.

AUTO SHOW JAN. 8.

This Year's Promises To Be Biggest

Ever.

Motordom's biggest yearly event,

the National Automobile Show, will open in Grand Central Palace, next

Saturday, January 8, and this year the exposition will far eclipse

any of the 20 shows that have gone before. Not only will the 21st annual display break all records but it will also be the most comprehensive automobile show ever held in the world. The first auto display was held in Madison Square Garden in 1900, and had a total of only 68 exhibitors. There will be nearly 400 exhibitors at this year's exposition which will be held under the auspices of the National Automobile

Chamber of Commerce. Of this total 38 concerns will display passenger cars. No motor trucks will

FAYOLLE LIKES U. S. FOODS

Chets May Be From France, He Admits, but They Have Strange

Diets.

Paris.—General Fayolle said upon his return recently from his three weeks' stay in the United States: "I have just discovered America, and America has conquered me. It is a wonderland.

"It has been a hard fight, those three weeks in America," the general went on. "I come back on the verge of collapse, with grim dyspepsia holding me in its grip. Without taking back anything that I have said about American expeditionary force cooks being rank amateurs, I must take off my hat to American chefs. There were many banquets, luncheons, and I survived them all."

To the suggestion that most of the chefs at the leading hotels were

French, General Fayolle replied:

"They may be, but they certainly have undergone an evolution, for they had strange dishes of their own."

"I have had a grandiose reception that I shall never forget, although I am certain that it was not for me personally, but because I represented

Marshal Foch and the French army."

THE "MEDICINE MAN"

A queer rite at the Tlaxcaltecas tribe of Mexican Indians is a continuous dance of 27 hours, which occurs at the annual festivities in honor of Nuestra Señora de Guadalupe. The photograph shows one of the "Locos," as they are called, or leaders, who excite the Indians, often with whips, to restless dance. Many of the "Locos" carry small dolls which they claim are their souls.

English Wife Gives
Husband to Another

London.—"We both love my husband well and must think only of his happiness. As he is happy with you, then you shall keep him. Unfortunately for you, there will be a baby."

"If you should ever need a friend, then I will do my best for you for the sake of the man we both love. I only hope he will not repay your love as he repays mine. Be good to my boy, and God bless you both."

This letter was read at Chatham police court when Herbert Harris, a staff sergeant in the Royal engineers, was charged with bigamy. It was written by his wife to Missie Abraham, who was alleged to have gone through a form of marriage with him.

"It was the result of this letter," said the defending counsel, "that Miss Abraham agreed to the marriage ceremony."

U. S. LEADS TRADE WITH CHILE

Supplied Half That Country's $146,482,321 Imports During the Year 1931.

Santiago.—The United States continued far in the lead of other nations in commerce with Chile in 1931, supplying nearly half of Chile's total imports of $146,482,321.

This is shown by the annual report of the superintendent of customs. Imports from North America amounted to $70,025,914, against $74,230,340 for 1930. Great Britain was second, with $28,427,271.

Total Chilean exports during 1931 decreased more than 70 per cent, as compared with 1930. This was due chiefly, it is said, to the reduced sales of nitrate, the predominant product for export.

Earthquakes Restore Sight.

Los Angeles, Cal.—The recent tremors which terrified thousands of people worried a miracle for one man, who thinks it did not get. The "miracle" restored the sight of a well-known blind beggar who frequents one of the downtown corners with a tin cup and a willow wand. He has been blind for years, and each day he has to be led back and forth across the crowded thoroughfares. When the first shock came he hurried away his tin cup, threw the wand into the gutter, threw up his hands, opened his eyes, and a look of wild alarm and dis-

Y. M. C. A. SCHOOL IS AVAILABLE

Free educational help may be secured by any ex-service man from the army or navy, who desires any course of study to better himself in any chosen field.

The Young Men's Christian Association of America has given several million dollars for this purpose already. There is still some left for those to use who desire to avail themselves of this opportunity at once. The county of Ulster was allotted over two thousand dollars which has been awarded to over fifty men for work along various lines. There is now an additional amount of a few hundred dollars to be used if any desire. This will be used for awards for correspondence courses.

The United Y. M. C. A. school at New York City have grown very fast the past year until now, their list of courses includes almost anything one could want. The applicants for awards at this time will be expected to take their work with this school in New York by extension, unless the special studies they desire are not given by this school. In that event they may take the work with any other school provided same is recognized and in good standing.

Further information can be secured from the secretaries at the Kingston Y. M. C. A. If there are any men who can not get into the city from Ulster county, they may write the assistant secretary, who will gladly mail them application blank and catalogue of courses, etc.

There is no better way to improve one's efficiency along their chosen line of work than to follow some special studies during the spare time. Kingston and Ulster county ex-service men have at hand an opportunity which they should all know about. New Year's is an excellent time to get down to real work and give some time and effort to self-improvement for the ultimate purpose of doing more good for others, of course. The awards will be considered in the order of applications received, so this matter should not be delayed.

SOVIET CONGRESS IS IN SESSION

And Economic Reconstruction Is in Fair Way To Begin—Lenin Has Gigantic Plan For Electrification But Tells Peasants Concessions Must Be Given Foreigners To Obtain Part Of Money.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Moscow, Via. Wireless to Berlin, Dec. 29.—Nicolaï Lenin, in a two hour speech before the soviet congress, today outlined a great program of reconstruction and presented strong arguments in favor of his policy of granting concessions to foreign capitalists. Lenin said that $17,000,000,000 would be spent in the next ten years for the creation of a gigantic system of electric power throughout all Russia.

The present session of the all-Russian Soviet Congress, which opened last Wednesday, is considered the most important gathering of its kind since the birth of the soviet republic, not only because all Russia is represented, but also because fighting has stopped and Russia is now in a position for the first time in three years to look forward to a period of peace and economic reconstruction.

The soviet republics of Armenia and Azerbaijan are represented. The assembly is composed of working men, all plainly dressed, and the delegates number 2,400.

The first address was made by Representative Terhatrian, delegate from Armenia.

Bela Kun, former communist dictator of Hungary, who is now connected with the Moscow government, reported on conditions in Crimea. He has just returned from Crimea, where he had been during the heavy fighting between the Reds and General Wrangel's army.

The delegate from Azerbaijan spoke on conditions in that newly created country.

Leon Trotsky, people's commissar for war, got an ovation that lasted for some minutes. This demonstration was repeated when Lenin appeared.

Lenin advanced many suggestions for the rehabilitation of the country. While speaking of concessions, he made the following interesting point regarding the peasants:

"The question of concessions has aroused suspicion in the minds of some people throughout the country, who are prone to consider such action equivalent to selling Russia to foreigners. Peasant representatives came here to Moscow and said they would be willing to suffer another three years rather than see their mother country—Russia—sold. This feeling shows a high degree of national self-consciousness and is a very good guarantee that we can and will keep ample control of these concessions."

"But we cannot do without these concessions. We must have machinery."

Speaking of the transportation industry, during which he referred to fuel as "the bread of industry," Lenin said:

"As we found it necessary to get bread for our soldiers we must also get fuel for our factories." He went on to explain his plan to utilize peat and for the electrification of Russia. The plants and wiring system will cost $17,000,000,000 which is to be distributed over ten years. Lenin said that Russia could not afford to spend more than $10,000,000,000 but hoped to get the rest from concessions.

New Year's Dance At Elks' Club.

The committee in charge of the dance at the Elks' Club New Year's Eve has practically completed its work. Mr. Cross, who has had wide experience, has decorated the dance hall in a way entirely different than has been attempted heretofore, and many novelties and surprises consistent with New Year's Eve have been arranged. Additional room in which refreshments may be served has been provided by boarding over one of the bowling alleys, and no pains have been spared to assure a regular Elks' New Year's Eve. This affair is for Elks and their guests, and it is requested that members inviting guests arrange to see that they are properly identified at the clubhouse.

MAKE UP YOUR MIND RIGHT NOW

You Can Be Well If You Build Up Your Blood

Pepto-Mangan Makes Red Blood

Start Now to Put Yourself in Good Trim to Fight Disease.

The matter of possessing good health depends largely upon yourself. If you think about being healthy and make up your mind to do the things that reason and experience have taught to be best for your health, you can be well unless you have some dangerous disease.

You have a body and it requires care. Nature automatically adjusts things for you up to a certain point. When your blood becomes clogged and full of poison—and that is what happens when you overwork or strain—your vitality runs low. Nature needs help for a time. You need a good tonic. Pepto-Mangan is the tonic to take. It builds red blood. Try it for a few weeks and see how much better and stronger you feel.

Pepto-Mangan will improve your health. Pepto-Mangan is sold in both liquid and tablet form. There is no difference in medicinal value. Take either kind you prefer. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan—"Gude's." The full name—"Gude's" Pepto-Mangan—should be on the package.—Advertisement.

PASTOR'S GREETING.

From The Rev. Mr. Sargent in England To Pine Hill Friends.

The Rev. Samuel Sargent sends the following from England to Pine Hill friends:

My Dear Friends:

Hope this finds you enjoying best of health and very happy in the good work of the Lord. Have thought of you many times since I left U. S. A. and do not forget you at the throne of grace and as you please pray for me. I am enjoying quiet rest and very profitable and blessed time with loved ones at home. The weather is very mild but rather damp and entirely different from the zero weather in U. S. A. I am surprised to find the great changes that have taken place during my seven years' away from England, and things are entirely different. The great world war has left its awful marks and it is a common experience to meet the maimed and the blind. I took a little walk a few days ago and saw two poor men totally blind and two men with legs missing and my heart was pained when I saw the four of them within a period of five minutes, and I knew they were only a few of the many unfortunate ones who fought for liberty and righteousness. Have been to church the three Sundays spent in this country and one notices great changes especially when one looks at the roll of honor bearing the names of the hero dead, and remember others who have passed from the church militant to the church triumphant.

Give my kindest regards and very best wishes to all inquiring friends. Hope to see you in the early spring. Please pray for my safe return.

UNIONISTS SECEDE.

Part of Textile Workers Finally Vote For "One Big Union."

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Lawrence, Mass., Dec. 29.—Ranks of Lawrence local Amalgamated Textile Workers of America are split today. Franco-Belgian, Italian, Lithuanian, Jewish weavers and general workers, have voted to follow Ben Legere into the "one big union" plan. The Italian branch, headed by Joseph Solereno, has decided to stay with the old organization. Legere states that organization of the one big union will start January first. Decision to join the new movement reverses the vote of Sunday when a majority of 75 votes was returned in favor of staying with the amalgamated. Charging that ballots of uninformed members were marked for them at Sunday's election and that other corrupt politics were used, the Central Council of the Amalgamated voted to secede.
